Introduction

I will summarise the data under various headings for Bandon, in the District Electoral Divisions (DED) of Bandon Town, County Cork for Census of 1926. In the following Table I show the number of Females, Males and those where no data has been recorded as N/R (Not Applicable in 1926). Optical Character Recognition was used to convert the written data on the census forms to text and on my own extended family I found that while some words were written pretty clearly the OCR returned N/A. This probably is the reason for many N/A records.

This report could be read in conjunction with my report on the 1901 and 1911 Census for Bandon on this link <https://bmdnotices.com/Bandon1901-and-1911.pdf>

For each Census of 1901, 1911 and 1926 we observe that females outnumber males in each census year.

Numbers of people recorded in each census

	1901	1911	1926
Females	1,510	1,629	1,482
Males	1,316	1,503	1,300
N/R (Not Applicable)	7	1	52
TOTAL	2,833	3,133	2,834

Table of the number of each Surname in the Town in 1926

Tabulated below are the surnames found in Bandon. Of course, there were many spelling variations of some surnames e.g. Sullivan and OSullivan or Mc Carthy and McCarthy or Carthy. This is evident as we scroll through many of the surnames with 1 or 2 of them in the records. Bandon did have Murphy as the most commonly occurring surname in 1901, 1911 and 1926 Censi.

Religion

We now look at the responses under the Religion heading. The Table below gives us a comparison of the numbers of Catholic, Church of Ireland, Methodist and other denominations in the town. I include the data from both the 1901 and 1911 Census too for comparison purposes.

Denomination	1901	%	1911	%	1926	%
Catholic	2,120	74.83	2,441	77.91	1964	69.30
Church of Ireland	455	16.06	428	13.66	242	8.54
Methodist	137	4.84	122	3.89	56	1.98
Church of England	20	0.71	62	1.98
Presbyterian	65	2.29	37	1.18	4	0.14
Brethren	24	0.85	15	0.48
Christian	7	0.25	11	0.35
Episcopalian		0	7	0.22
N/R	2	0.07	5	0.16	566	19.97
Protestant	1	0.04	2	0.06
?	1	0.04	1	0.03
Atheist		0	1	0.03
Congregationalist		0	1	0.03
Religion	1	0.04		0
Other					2	0.70
Total	2,833	100	3,133	100	2,834	100

We see that in 1926 census 566 people show as not indicating their religion. This is extremely large when compared with the single figures for both 1901 and 1911. It is most likely that this is inaccurate due to using OCR to convert the handwritten return to text format.
